TO THE CHURCHES OF THE CONN. CONVENTION OF AMERICAN BAPTIST CHURCHES

The Resolutions Committee of your State Convention greets you in the name of Jesus Christ.

We would speak of the recent annual meeting of our convention and of the words that were spoken as we considered the theme "Bridge Over Troubled Waters." We were called upon to look sensitively at the things which separate us, clergy and laity, as well as church from society. We were called upon to recognize how important it is to know what it means to be a Christian in today's world - to know what the role of the Christian and the church is in the light of crisis and change - and to be in open communication, pastor and people, for we share a single gospel and a single mission.

We would speak of the open and frank reactions that were made by delegates in response to the things that were said by speaker and panel. There was agreement and disagreement and searching questions by concerned people. Important as the responses were their greatest importance was in the fact that a bridge was beginning to be built between pulpit and pew, between people.

We would speak of a freshness in our worship experiences. Visually and audibly - with pictures, posters and instruments. We were reminded of broad unexplored dimensions of worship that wait to be tapped by local congregations.

We would speak of the need to take this openness that was found by Connecticut Baptists as well as the questions that were raised and the answers that were offered and to consider them within the local church - to talk together about the ministry we share together as we allow the Holy Spirit to move in your midst. We believe that listening to each other and to the sounds of silence can be a profound and moving experience.

Your Resolutions Committee presented no resolutions this year. Rather it now calls upon each church to reflect upon the words of this letter and we invite you to use the attached material which reflects more fully the things that were said at the annual meeting. We feel that we shall all be stronger as individuals and as churches as we wrestle with these most important issues.

A Pastoral Letter

I

To the churches of the Connecticut Convention of American Baptist Churches we greet you. Though we are separated one from the other by distance yet we are united through the God we praise, through his son Jesus Christ who is the Lord of our lives and through the good news that is ours to proclaim to the whole world.

Because the responsibility for the ministry of each church rests not with selected delegates to an annual meeting but with all the members of each local congregation the Resolutions Committee prepared no resolutions for this annual meeting on October 16, 17, 1970. Rather, as the convention progressed the committee listened to what was being said by speakers, panel and delegates from the local churches as they shared in the theme "Bridge Over Troubled Waters". What they heard they present to you - the churches - with the hope that it will be shared, discussed and implemented as each church feels called upon to do.

II

At the business session a major challenge to the churches came in the presentation of a need for the Convention to minister with strength to a growing Spanish population - to the black churches - to suburbia - and to the youth of our state. A minimum goal of ten thousand dollars was set and specific information has been sent to all local pastors.

Question - What part will our church have in raising ten thousand dollars that we might more adequately proclaim the lordship of Jesus Christ in the state of Connecticut?

III

The convention addressed itself to the question - "Conflicts and Tensions in the Local Church". Dr. George Webber first put in perspective the issue of conflict between clergy and laity.

- Clergy - frustrated - many are leaving ministry for this reason. Laity are bored and angry - some stay away from church.
- The church must become a family where things can be talked about openly - where you can "fight and not pack up and leave".
- What is needed is clarification of the nature of the church.
- For too many the church is there to take care of them. A more biblically accurate definition of the church is that it is a "boot camp" from which Christians move into the world to be as their Lord was - "a man for others". The test of faith is not full churches but people helping each other.
- The relationship between pastor and people needs reexamination. The pastors role is that of "enabler" - bringing a congregation to a point of "caring" and "response". We need to capture again the meaning of the Priesthood of all Believers.

Responses to the theme and to Dr. Webber's address:

- The end of God's action is not the institutional church but the world. (God so loved the world).
- Clergy does not have to have all the answers but he must be willing to deal with the problems.
- A church that can pray together builds a bridge over troubled waters.
- There is a place in the church not only for front line troops but for support troops as well.
- There should be a deep concern for that segment of the congregation who find change a threat.
- The purpose of a church is to make disciples - and to send the regenerate into the world with God's love.
- What does it mean to make disciples? Following Jesus means to follow Him into action.

Questions

1. What is the task of our church? What unique ministry is open for us?
2. What are the resources that are available to us? To whom can we turn for help?
3. What is the role of laity and clergy in the life of our church?
4. How is a balance kept between church maintenance and church mission?

IV

Dr. Webber also addressed himself to the subject of "Conflicts and Tensions Between Various Segments of Society."

- The church is so caught up with itself that it fails to minister where it is supposed to - in the world (two examples: race - youth).
- We have got to get into the shoes of the black man if we are going to build any bridges - to become as others in need. Unless I become a neighbor I cannot become a brother. We have brain-washed ourselves into believing that real progress is taking place when it is not.
- The church must cultivate a prophetic voice - speaking to the moment at hand in true biblical style. The church must become an instrument of liberation.
- As for youth, they want to share in their Christian education.
- Youth feels the church offers them no choices - no room for questions, exploration.
- In spite of money and effort in Christian education youth are still leaving the church.
- When we baptize them at twelve or before we force them into a mold that they are not ready for, which is also bad Baptist doctrine.

- Though upsetting the youth of today is challenging our phoniness.

Responses and questions to the theme and Dr. Webber's address:

- Should children be made to go to church. Youth say no - adults yes.
- Is our effort in Christian education a failure or success?
- Youth are people too and want to be a part of the church but they would like to be heard and participate not just follow.
- There needs to be closer communication between churches and the seminaries where persons are being trained for the parish ministry.

Questions

1. What does it mean for a church to be prophetic in today's world?
2. What ministry is my church in a position to offer toward minority groups within my community and state?
3. What must be the role and relationship between youth and adults in the church if each are to feel at home?
4. What does it mean for a local church to be bridge builder in the world?

V

As a Convention we were led in worship and in singing in new and exciting ways.

- We found that litanys can have a fresh and contemporary ring to them.
- We found that visual effects can open the mind to the presence of God.
- We found that praises to God can be done "to a different beat" and with different instruments.

Question

1. How can a local church bring freshness and life to its acts of worship?
2. Is it possible to put the meaning of the church today into hymn forms with familiar tunes?

You will determine the value of this document as you share together, pastor and people, the things that were said and the questions that have been asked.

You struggle not alone. It is an effort we share together and we do so with the knowledge that in openness and with a sense of God's leading we will find renewal.

May the joy which comes from knowing the living God be yours.

REPORT OF THE AUDITOR

March 26, 1971

Connecticut Convention of American Baptist Churches
Department of Business and Finance
Hartford, Connecticut

Gentlemen:

We have examined the statements of the operating account of the CONNECTICUT CONVENTION OF AMERICAN BAPTIST CHURCHES, INC., and of CAMP WIGHTMAN for the year ended December 31, 1970. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion, the statements of Operating Account and Camp Wightman present fairly the results of operations for the year ended December 31, 1970.

Operating Account: We traced cash receipts allocated to the operating account and reconciled these receipts to amounts deposited with the Hartford National Bank & Trust Company for the operating account. Cash disbursements were also reconciled from records of the Convention to amounts reported by the bank. The cash balance at December 31, 1970 was reconciled.

Camp Wightman: We traced amounts reported in the cash receipt book to deposits in the bank and reconciled disbursements made to amounts reported. The cash balance at December 31, 1970 was reconciled to the bank balance at that date.

Security Count: On December 31, 1970 we counted securities held at the Hartford National Bank & Trust Company for the Consolidated Restricted Fund, Consolidated Unrestricted Fund, and the Restricted Fund. Our count is in agreement with the amounts reported by the bank as "Inventory - 12/8/70" for these funds.

Financial Procedures: The accounting system presently does not conform to accepted accounting practice and procedures in that it does not reflect a balance sheet (financial position) nor the change in operating fund balance. We, therefore, recommend that the Convention maintain a general ledger to which are posted summary totals of cash receipts and disbursements. The ledger should be divided in five sections: (1) assets, (2) liabilities, (3) fund balances, (4) revenues and (5) expenditures. The assets should be set up at cost or at current market values, where cost figures cannot be obtained. We feel that with these changes the records will reflect the financial position of the Convention in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

Respectfully submitted,

Kircaldie, Randall & McNab

ORDINATION
Standards of Ordination

The most important prerequisite for ordination, the call by God to a specialized ministry, does not yield itself to particular standards which a denomination or local congregation might establish. This is why the call must be tested by other prerequisites or standards, especially those having to do with A) licensing as a first step toward ordination, B) educational standards, and C) the proposed type of service as an ordained minister. In these three areas it is quite appropriate that the local and the wider Church (in the case of our denomination, the American Baptist Convention) establish standards for ordination.

A. Licensing

The candidate for ordination should be licensed by the church in which he holds his membership, in cooperation with the proper association or state convention body, at least six months prior to his ordination. This provides the opportunity and the impetus for the Church, both on the local and the wider level, to be involved in his preparation for ordination as well as be a part of the Ordination Council.

1. Significance

- a. A local church, well acquainted with the candidate, is making public the fact that he or she apparently possesses the ability and the spiritual and emotional qualities necessary to fit him or her for the ministry, and that he or she is presently receiving the academic training required for ordination.
- b. A local church and the state Commission on the Ministry are to receive the candidate under their "watchcare" and regularly counsel him in regard to his vocation and professional training. Such counseling should take place not less than once a year and be performed by the pastor, the local Board of Deacons, and the state Commission on the Ministry.

2. Procedure

- a. The candidate makes his desire to be licensed known to his pastor and his local Board of Deacons, who then interview him to determine his eligibility for licensing.
- b. The Board of Deacons and pastor then request the state Commission on the Ministry to meet with the candidate.
- c. Upon the recommendation of the Commission and the affirmative vote of the local church, the status of Licensed Candidate for Ordination shall be granted to the candidate.
- d. The local church shall notify the state Commission on the Ministry of this action.

3. Duration

It shall be made clear to the candidate that the license is granted in anticipation of ordination; that it shall be valid for a maximum of three years unless the local congregation revokes it.

B. Education

The candidate shall meet the following educational standards at or before the time of his ordination:

1. The educational prerequisites as adopted by the American Baptist Convention in 1961:

RESOLVED, That the educational standards of four years college and three years of seminary (the A.B. and B.D. degrees or their standard equivalents) be the educational prerequisites for the recognition by the American Baptist Convention of candidates ordained after and including January 1, 1965. This action is not retroactive. It will in nowise affect the manner in which American Baptist Convention pastors ordained before January 1, 1965 shall be recognized or listed. This action is accompanied with a call to all local ordination councils and local churches to prepare churches and ordination councils as well as prospective candidates for the implementation of this standard in 1965.

2. A seminary level course on the history and polity of Baptists.

C. Types of Service

The candidate shall have definite plans to enter any of the following fields of service:

1. Parish ministry, including all staff who exercise pastoral functions:
2. Mission service on the home or foreign field in which pastoral functions will be exercised;
3. Chaplaincies: institutional, military, or academic;
4. Experimental ministries, including staff membership in a church-related institution where preaching, teaching, and/or pastoral work is required;
5. Staff service, involving educational or pastoral functions of an American Baptist agency or institution, a council of churches, or some other ecumenical ministry appropriately related to the American Baptist Convention.
6. Any candidate whose proposed type of service does not fall into one of the above categories, e.g., a full-time evangelist, may consult with his state Commission on the Ministry.

Procedures for OrdinationA. The Individual

1. The candidate should take the necessary steps for licensing.
2. After conferring with his pastor, he should seek counseling from the state Commission on the Ministry as to procedures leading to ordination.
3. He should have completed his educational requirements or secured a statement from his seminary regarding the date of his graduation.
4. He should confer with seminary personnel or others about his ordination statement.
5. He should inform the pastor and the Board of Deacons concerning his readiness for ordination.
6. He should select a sponsor.

B. The Local Congregation

1. The Board of Deacons of the church to which the candidate belongs shall meet with the candidate to gain information as to his eligibility for ordination. If this is the same church which has licensed him, he shall simply inform the Board of his progress toward his readiness for ordination since the time of his licensing.
2. The Board of Deacons, if it considers the candidate ready for ordination, shall recommend that the state Commission on the Ministry meet with him preparatory to the calling of an Ordination Council. The Board shall supply, or take steps for supplying to the Commission all information at its disposal.
3. If the Commission on the Ministry recommends that the candidate proceed with ordination, the local church should then vote to call an Ordination Council.

C. The Seminary

1. The candidate's seminary shall furnish for the state Commission on the Ministry a statement on the candidate's successful completion of his work and official notification of his graduation or expected date of graduation.
2. The seminary may also make available any other relevant information.

D. The State Commission on the Ministry

1. On recommendation of the Board of Deacons of the Candidate's church, the state Commission on the Ministry shall meet with the candidate prior to licensing and again prior to ordination.
2. The Commission shall ascertain:

- a. Whether the candidate meets the standards for ordination;
 - b. Whether the candidate understands the nature of an Ordination Council and will be prepared to meet with one;
 - c. Whether the candidate has given proper attention to the preparation, writing, and delivery of statements to be presented to the Council regarding (1) his choice of vocation, (2) his Christian experience, (3) his academic and field preparation, and (4) his general comprehension of Christian doctrine and practice, including his understanding of God, Christ, and the Holy Spirit; the purpose and place of the Church in today's world; his understanding of the ordinances as practiced in Baptist Churches; the role of the minister; and the relationship of the local congregation to the American Baptist Convention and to its ecumenical witness.
 - d. The Commission should understand that it is not conducting an Ordination Council.
- 3. The Commission, if it judges it appropriate, shall recommend that the candidate's church call an Ordination Council.
 - 4. The Commission shall make it clear to the candidate and his church that a date for the proposed ordination shall not be set until after the Ordination Council has met and has voted to recommend the candidate for ordination.

E. The Association

- 1. The association shall be responsible for encouraging churches to send delegates to the Ordination Council.
- 2. Through its moderator, it shall be responsible for convening the Ordination Council.
- 3. The association should perform the functions described in D. if the state convention does not have a Commission on the Ministry.
